

ARJEN

I am Arjen. My family is seen as undesirable by those in power because we belong to a minority group that is considered a 'problem'.

I have been an active member of my Scouting group for years. I like to show that I am a scout, but I hide my scout uniform and scarf when necessary. I am afraid of those now in power.

- Those in power see him as undesirable
- Is ready to help others
- Was positive, but now afraid
- Tries to be strong, but it takes effort

DIEDE

I am Diede. I am often afraid and try to stand out as little as possible. It's hard for me to see how Arjen and his family are doing.

Scouting is good for me because I matter here and can be myself. However, I don't like to show others that I belong to Scouting. If I don't have to, I don't wear a scout uniform or scout scarf.

- Does not pose a problem for those in power
- Is very caring and supportive
- Does not want to be guided by her fears
- Is a quiet force

ISMAEL

I am Ismael. I am a thinker and always think carefully before I do anything. I look up to Lisa and admire her courage.

I prefer to be cautious and don't like to take risks. I like to choose the safe option. I think it is important not to make hasty decisions. As it sometimes takes me a long time to make decisions, sometimes I just go along with Lisa's ideas.

- Does not pose a problem for those in power
- Does not make hasty decisions
- Chooses the safe path
- Thinks carefully before acting

LAYLA

I am Layla. I was shy when I first joined Scouting, but thanks to my Scouting friends, I grew into an independent girl. Scouting is very important.

My family lives abroad and I only communicate with them via digital means. This communication with my family is read and listened to by those in power.

- Those in power monitor communication
- Uses Scouting techniques
- Worries and daydreams often
- Is driven to achieve her goal

LISA

I am Lisa. I've always had a strong sense of justice. I feel that it is important that everyone and everything is treated equally. I have been active in Scouting for years, which has taught me how to arrange and organise things well. I proudly wear my scout scarf to show that I am a scout. No matter what happens, Scouting must always continue.

- Quickly becomes a target for those in power
- Considers justice to be very important
- Quick to give an opinion
- Natural leader

MICHAEL

I am Michael, the joker of the group. My parents support the new authorities and think the changes are good, and I usually believe that too. I keep the mood light with my humour and optimism. I agree with my parents because I think the changes will turn out positively. However, sometimes I have doubts about the new rules.

- Does not pose a problem for those in power
- Is torn between friends and parents
- Goes along with parents' actions and thinking
- Has a sense of humour and optimism
